Cookies

The internet pages of www.kishornport.co.uk use cookies. Cookies are small text files that are sent by web servers and stored on visitor's computers so they can be read back at a later date. This is a convenient way of allowing a computer to remember specific information relating to a web site and provide a better user experience.

The cookies we use on this site are 'analytical' cookies, created by Google Analytics, to track information on your visit. These cookies are unobtrusive and allow both the web site to function and for us to obtain information about the usage of our site, viewing data such as the number of visits, duration of each visit and path taken by the user around the site. This not only allows us to provide an excellent experience but also improves the way our web site works by, for example, making sure users can easily find what they are looking for.

Your Rights

You have rights in relation to your personal data and can make a request as a data subject for information from KPL.

You have a number of rights in relation to your personal data. These are listed in brief below. A fee will not be charged for exercising any of these rights. You have:

- The right to access information about the personal data the company is processing and to obtain a copy of it
- The right to require the company to change incorrect or incomplete data
- The right to require the company to erase or stop processing your data
- The right to object to the processing of your data where the company is relying on its legitimate interests as the legal ground for processing

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, or if you have any concerns about how your personal data is being processed, please contact us on the contact details provided.

If you would like further information on your rights under the General Data Protection Regulations, please visit the Information Commissioner's website: www.ico.org.uk

If you believe that the company has not complied with your rights, you can also complain via the Information Commissioner's website.
